

Jacobsen, Invited Speaker from Montana State

Dr. Barry Jacobsen, Associate Director, Montana State Agricultural Experiment Station, Professor of Plant Pathology at Montana State University (MSU), and Head, Department of Research Centers at MSU was the invited speaker during the Fall seminar series in the department. Dr. Jacobsen visited the Department on October 5th and gave an overview and current status of his efforts into research and development of biocontrol agents for disease management. He met with faculty and graduate students during his visit.

